Farm History

When this farm was bought by Federico Pacas Diaz in 1989, he replanted it almost to entirety. He also built street paths, and divided it into 9 different lots. In 2001 Federico decided to plant 5.5 hectares of Pacamara, but when the rust crisis came in 2012, it was decided that the farm had to be diversified with more resistant varieties like Yellow Icatu and Sarchimor. This is the home of a great Amate tree that is almost 50 years old. It is now administered by Federico Pacas Lopez.
